Frederick Nathan was among the witnesses. The son of Ars, helicy, the housekelper, was frequently referred to, indicating a latent anspecion in the minds of the jury that he may know more of the murder than he may wish to tell. He will probably be examined to morrow. Thomas, Deputy Attorney, was arrested to day on suspicion, as he had talked freely about the murder. It seems there are little grounds for the proceeding. The man grounds for the proceeding. The man who was arrested at Newark is one John Miller. He is confined in Rockland county jail. He came here recently from California, and says that the night of the murder he was at the house of Mr. Singerian, five miles from Fordham, and that he never saw Mr. Nathan but once, and that was five years ago.
